

Dorinell Alcantara

Dorinell Alcantara is a Behavior Specialist who has a passion for working with pre-school children who have experienced adversity and trauma.

After her own struggle with anxiety, depression and adversity as a teenager, Dorinell found the strength and courage to seek help through counseling. With her parents support and faith in God, Dorinell embraced healing and life transformation that she now utilizes to help others.

These early life experiences became the catalyst that led Dorinell to pursue and achieve her degree in Social Work from Appalachian State University in North Carolina.

Through extensive research and her educational studies, Dorinell learned and firmly believes that when mental health services are implemented in early childhood, teenagers as well as young adults experience greater levels of success in adulthood and beyond.

Dorinell is currently pursuing her Master's degree in Social Work and is employed as a Behavior Specialist for preschool aged children in North Carolina; targeting low-income families, bi-lingual families, and fostering families.

Dorinell often volunteers in the community and enjoys lending her talents in social work to be of service to the community at large. She regularly volunteers at local crisis centers in the NC area and at her church.

In her free time, she enjoys hiking, walking, traveling, and spending time with her loved ones.
