

Kellee Fearon

Conference Speaker: Women in Leadership

Kellee Fearon is a corporate leader with an entrepreneurial mind, managing a multi-volume business as a Rare Disease Regional Manager with 9 direct reports. She has a documented successful track record in building highly productive teams. Former positions include, Performance Coach, Human Resources Business Partner, and Manager of Learning and Development. Kellee's leadership style is transformational, always focused on motivating employees, and enhancing productivity through visibility. She is keenly focused on skill development and performance improvement. She has a proven track record in strategic execution, leadership, organizational culture, change management and team building. She holds multiple certifications including Women in Business and Leadership from Wharton and is currently a candidate for a graduate certificate in Strategic Communications from Purdue University.

Her biggest joy is helping others. She is a mentor to new corporate recruits focused on teaching, leadership, professional development, and career advancement. She is also the President of the Parents Coalition in her area. The mission and vision are focused on student partnerships for enhanced diverse curriculum, and a cohesive culture. Kellee and her husband continue to work with young men of color in track and field while simultaneously supporting their efforts to pursue higher education, "When we give cheerfully and accept gratefully, everyone is blessed" Maya Angelou.